

Solana: Renewable Energy in Your Neck of the . . . Desert: Video

Use the space below to take notes on the video. Before you begin, read these questions to guide your note taking:

What is the main point of the video?

Why is the southwestern United States a good location for this technology?

Can the system provide energy at night?

Does the system create a byproduct or waste?